ZONING CHANGE GETS O.K.

Acting on the report submitted by its planning consultant and two of its members, the City Planning Commission last Thursday night recommended to the City Council that 17 acres now zoned industrial be changed to commercial use.

The council had asked that a study be made of the area between Hamilton and Campbell avenues.

Residents Ask Change

In addition to the council's request for study, 126 residents adjacent to the area had petitioned the commission requesting that the entire area (about 48 acres) be changed from industrial or commercial.

The recommendation of the city planners to only change the zone in part of the area did not satisfy the petitioners, for Dick Ryan, 723 Ridgely Drive, a leader of the protesting citizens, told the commissioners that their action did nothing to further the petition's objective. He maintained that the action would depress property values.

O'Brien Reports

Commissioner Sam O'Brien, who with Commissioner Kenneth Priestley and Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, surveyed the situation, submitted the report to his fellow commissioners.

He explained that his group found that Campbell is at present "overzoned" for commercial uses in comparison with other cities. He cited that there are 126 acres of commercial zoning in the city with many less retail outlets than Los Gatos which has only 66 acres of commercial zones. It was also revealed that there are 1304 acres zoned for residential and 253 for industrial.

The section that the planners recommended be made commercial extends from the Los Gatos Creek to the San Jose-Los Gatos Road and includes the area that has been set aside for the rubbish dump. It was felt by the commissioners that by allowing the remainder of the area to be M-1-S greater possible use could be made of it.

What possible effect the new freeway, which cuts through the area, might have on the land was also considered by the commissioners in their report. It was also pointed out that the part that was recommended be changed to commercial lends itself better to that type of use because of the size of lots.

Included in that part which is recommended to remain industrial is the 40-acre Brynteson ranch on the corner of Campbell and San Jose-Los Gatos Road.

Approves Swim Pool

The Commission also approved the application of the Trojan Construction Co. for a use permit to permit the company to build a community recreation center in the Los Ranchitos Gardens subsubdivision.

The center, which would include a swimming pool, would be for the use of the residents of the tract who would become owners of it, according to Pearce Davies, representative of the construction firm.

The center would be built on two lots on Calado Ave. and La Pradera Ave. off Campbell Ave. at the west end of the city and would meet all requirements of the health department, Davis explained. He also said that his comapny had built such centers before

Residents to Get Numbers by Mail

Residents of Campbell will probably be notified by mail of their new house and building numbers, Nestor Barrett, city planning consultant told the City Council Monday night.

The new ordinance recently adopted calls for all new numbers to be in effect by July 1. Barrett explained that in some cases only the mail carriers know the present numbers of many of the residences and it was "amazing", the planning consultant said, how many houses have no numbers on them.

Council members had wondered whether volunteer workers could be used to notify the householders but agreed, this would be a difficult procedure, if the present numbers were only in the carriers heads.

Barret also reported that W. L. (Bud) Morser, building inspector, was responsible for the issuing of the numbers and that he would have a complete list of both old and new numbers available.

Bargains Feature Old Settlers' Day

Campbell merchants will mark Old Settlers' Day next weekend, May 4-5-6, with their own "old settlers' bargains" as an added attraction to the 64th annual celebration.

Almost all the stores in the Campbell area will participate in this bargain festival. They will announce their wares through special advertisements in The Campbell Press next issue.

The Campbell Press will devote much of the issue to stories and pictures on the Old Settlers' event, the second oldest celebration in California.

The program for the three-day event, the parade line-up, pictures of the queen candidates and the mother of the year nominees as well as special features of the days will features the issue.

The merchants have also entered into the spirit of the occasion with their own way of marking the event by offering a galaxy of bargains which will be appreciated by both residents and visitors.

Set 'Em Ahead!

Campbell area residents, along with the rest of the state, will lose an hour of sleep Sunday which they won't get back until next October. Residents must set their clocks ahead one hour Saturday night in order to be on time when daylight saving time goes into effect Sunday morning.

On The Line in Campbell

Herb Shadle, Campbell Cancer Drive chairman, reported this week that only $512 (less than half the Campbell quota) has been collected in the local fund drive thus far. He made an urgent appeal to all local residents to respond to this worthwhile campaign which is of such importance to the entire country. Contributions may be mailed to American Cancer Society, P. O. Box 698, Campbell.

L. M. Villalva, field superintendent for the R. L. Polk & Co., that is planning to publish a combined city directory for Campbell, Saratoga and Los Gatos, this week was seeking solicitors for the job of canvassing the local area. This marks the first time that Campbell has been separated from San Jose in a directory.

The canvassing is expected to take several months. The field superintendent assures local residents that the new house numbers will be listed in the directory. He expects to verify all the house numbers with the building inspector's office.

Vince Vallelunga, proprietor of Vince's Food Center, at Campbell and Winchester, is the newest member of the Campbell Stamp Association. He will issue the Campbell stamps on all items except tobacco and on all sale items each week. However. because of competitive prices, he reports, the store will not be able to give double stamps on "double stamp day."

Pet Lico, owner of the Towne Pride Food Mart, 369 E. Campbell Ave., this week emphasized that his market has not been sold or is it on the market for sale. Extensive remodeling is now under way in the store, increasing the store size in keeping with the growing Campbell area. A wider selection of merchandise will also be offered.

OLD SETTLERS' PLANS HIT HIGH PITCH

PARADE FEATURES

There will 15 musical organizations in the five divisions of the Old Settlers' Day parade on Saturday, May 5, Bob Houston, parade chairman, announced this week.

Representative Charles Gubser, of the 10th Congressional District, will be grand marshal and State Senator Jock Thompson and Assemblyman Bruce Allen will also be special guests.

Sam Cava, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, reported this week also that the famed Old St. Mary's Church Chinese girls drum corps will also be in the parade.

The various military units will be in the first two divisions, parade officials announce. The second division will also include floats from many organizations, Campbell City councilmen and their wives and honored old settlers.

Bob Miller on "Major Golden Hour", well known parade horse, will head the third division in which Boy Scouts and Brownies will also march. The S. P. Band is slated for the fourth division along with a number of antique automobiles and decorated cars. Little Lynn Levenberg on her horse "Rusty", will head the fifth division with more Scouts and decorated cars and floats.

MOTHERS' AWARD

Five candidates have been nominated for the Campbell mother-of-the-year, Mrs. Sarah Blue, chairman of the mother's selection committee, reported this week. The mother so honored will be especially honored at a program on Sunday afternoon, May 6, the final day ofthe 64th annual Old Settlers' Day celebration.

Mrs. Herb Shadle, of the old settlers' welcome committee, announced this week also that Mrs. T. A. Robinson, 18 S. Second St., has been selected as the queen mother among the old settler's group. She will also be honored during the parade and on Sunday.

The queen of the entire affair will be crowned on Friday night at the Footlighters melodrama in the high school auditorium and the mother-of-the-year and queen mother will be presented at the same time.

Mrs. James Goble,, 14634 Nelson Court, Los Gatos in the Cambrian Park area, is the last entry in the mother-of-the-year contest, Mrs. Blue reports. Mrs. Goble, the mother of two children, is sponsored by the Blossom Valley Garden Club. She has been chairman of the migrant work committee of the Santa Clara Valley Council of Churches for the past three years and has been active in California extension service work.

The four other candidates are, Mrs. Herman Rice, Mrs. Clarence F. Helmbold, Mrs. Fred Smith and Mrs. Catherine Haliwell.

"MELLERDARMMER"

As the Footlighters were polishing their parts for the "melerdrammer on Friday night, May 4, that will launch the three-day Old Settlers' Day celebration in Campbell, supporters of the six queen candidates were busily "campaigning" for their favorites.

Orrin Accardi, chairman of the queen committee, announced this week that the queen contest will end at midnight, April 30. The queen will be selected from the six girls in the race on the basis of the number of tickets sold to their credit to the Footlighters production, "The Curse of the Aching Heart" or "Trapped in the Spider's Web".

Accardi said that all tickets must be turned in by noon on May 1 so the judges can check them immediately. This is necessary, he pointed out, so that the queen-to-be can be taken either to San Jose or San Francisco for the fitting of her wardrobe. Mrs. Ann Levin of Rozann Shop in Campbell, is in charge of the queen's wardrobe.

The six girls in the race for the queen and their sponsoring organizations are: Sherry Robinson, Knights of Columbus; Pat Means, Campbell Kiwanis Club; Danice Solomon, Business and Professional Women's Club; Lynda Foreman, Orchard City Grange No. 333 and the Blossom Valley Garden Club; Joan Geist, Ada Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F. and Theta Rho; Gail Robertson, Quito Kiwanis Club.

SQUARE DANCE

With "big name" callers of the square dance circles on hand and with square dance groups converging on Campbell from all over the area, the square dance on Saturday night, May 5, is expected to be one of the most popular features of the three-day Old Settlers' Day celebration, according to Norman Corvello, dance chairman.

Through the courtesy of Hunts Food Co. the dance will be held in the company's building on Harrison St. It will get under way at 8 p. m. The refreshment concession will be handled by the Business and Professional Women's Club. Tickets have been distributed among the various square dancing groups and they will also be sold at the door.

Ken Clark, a featured caller, will be master of cememonies and Jim Mork, of Hayward, will also assist. Lou Hughes, of the Korn Krackers Square Dancers Club, and Miss Neva Johannes, will act as relief callers.

Kenneth Robinson is in charge of the decorations and officers of the Northern California Square Dancers Association plan to be in attendance.

Among the square dancing groups that will attend the dance are Star Swingers Club, Rafter Rockers Club, Tri-Squares (from the Rosemary School), Jokers (Quito School); Foothill Swingers, Los Gatos; Dudes and Dolls, San Jose; Dancin' Dandies, Cupertino and Highland Hillbillies.

Square dance clesses from Mt. Pleasant School, St. Justin's School, Santa Clara and San Tomas School, will also attend.

BOARD NAMES GEORGE KEMP IN NEW POST

George Kemp, vice principal at Campbell Union High School and general chairman of the 64th annual Old Settlers' Day, was appointed business manager for the high school district by the district board of trustees last Tuesday.

Growth of the school district, together with the program of accepting funds from the state, have increased the work load in the business field, necessitating the appointment of a business manager for the district. Kemp's appointment was made effective July 1.

Robert Culp, dean of boys, will assume the vice principalship vacated by Kemp. Culp will also continue in his capacity of dean of boys at Campbell Union High School.

St. Lucy's To Field Team

It was announced this week that St. Lucy's School will enter a track team in the Parochial School Athletic League meet to be held at Bellarmine, May 19. Tryouts for the team are now in progress with Chuck Augustine, John Lauro, Lou Colla and Renso Orsi in charge. All above the third grade are eligible to try out.

Poles Get Closer!

One more hurdle appeared cleared this week by the residents in the Kuehnis tract in their long drawn-out battle to obtain metal street light poles instead of plain wooden ones..... The county Board of Supervisors received their petition on Monday to form a special assessment district within the present Campbell Lighting Dsitrict, and appeared favorably impressed by it.

Phil Lively, 291 Richlee, who has been spearheading the drive for metal poles, reported that the supervisors were receptive to the idea after hearing from Spencer Williams, county counsel, who was already familiar with the project .

The matter was referred by the board to the Mark Thomas Engineering Co., and H. W. Campen, attorney, to set up the details for the operation and report to the board at a later meeting.

Council Approves Plan Line for Hamilton Ave.

Despite the single-handed and unsupported effort of former Mayor Richard Morton Monday night to change the thinking of the City Council on the subject, Hamilton Avenue's plan-line still remains at 120-feet in width for future planning.

Councilman Morton, who for the first time in the four-year history of the city, was not sitting in the mayor's chair, was unsuccessful in getting his fellow councilmen to defer the decision on the long-standing plan-line for Hamilton Ave. and to reconsider changing the width of the street.

No Second

His motion failed to even get the support of a second from any other city dad at the council table.

After his motion had died, Morton then moved the plan-line of 120-feet be adopted. He explained that it was a "good plan", far less expensive than any other but that it was an unfortunate "by-product of progress".

The first reading then was given the ordinance which finally ended the long-drawn out "Battle of Hamilton Jog" which began months ago in the Planning Commission meetings.

The battle started when the city engineer's office drew up the tentative plans of the eventual widening of Hamilton showing that the city would save approximately $50,000 by "jogging" the street. This curve (15-feet in 450 feet) would make it possible to only move houses on one side of the street while a straight road meant that land must be taken from both sides. Residents in the area vehemently protested, but after a series of hearings the "jog" and the 120-foot width was approved by the Planning Commission.

Final Hearing

On Monday night the City Council held the final public hearing on the subject. It was during the hearing on the subject that Councilman Morton made his case for a more narrow street. Nestor Barrett, planning consultant, who with Elmer D'Angelo, assistant city engineer, had guided the plan through the various prior hearings, defended the 120-foot width, pointing out that Hamilton Ave. would become one of the three main accesses to the Route 5 freeway and would be heavily traveled. Mayor John Chargin also spoke in favor of the wider street.

The new ordinance will act as a "freeze" to present property owners on the street. They will not be allowed to build on the land that will eventually be needed when the road is widened but the land will not be purchased until needed.

Hamilton Ave is undergoing a widening process now, D'Angelo explained, which adds confusion to the situation. The present work will only take 17-feet from the property owners. The engineer emphasized, however, that it was necessary to have the future plan-line established in order to carry out the present construction.

Residents Speak

A number of residents of the area affected were interested spectators at the hearing. W. H. Lee, representing the Rutherford property interests, wanted more specific information on the plan but was confused over the present widening and the future.

Mrs. F. A. Jacobsen, 46 E. Hamilton, wanted to know how the residents were going to get out of their driveways when the contemplated heavy traffic was going to tear down Hamilton.

Mrs. Walter A. Sutton, 90 E. Hamilton, wanted to know if the set-back of 17-feet which would be all that they would have would be enough in the eyes of the city. She also wanted to know what some of the survey marks meant on the curb in front of her place.

David Rutherford, who came in just after the hearing was closed was asked by Mayor Chargin if he wanted to say anything on the question in addition to what Lee had presented as his family representative. Rutherford made only a brief general comment and later asked that his remarks be stricken from the records.

New Mayor Steers Council Through Lengthy Agenda

Mayor John Chargin, presiding at his first regular City Council meeting Monday night, had a full agenda for his initiation. But he also had the satisfaction of seeing his fellow city dads cover a lot of territory during the evening festivities.

In the three-and-a-half hour session, under the guidance of the new top man of the city the Council:

1. Held a public hearing on Hamilton Ave. plan line (see separate story.)
2. Set a public hearing date for action on the Planning Commission's recommendation for a zone change on Whitehall St. to allow Joseph Russo to build a sheet metal warehouse.
3. Set a public hearing for the appeal by M. Tock to the Planning Commission's denial for a zone variance on his property at 705 E. Campbell.
4. Approved the re-appointment of former Mayor Richard Morton as the city's representative to Sanitation District No. 4.
5. Set May 7 as the date for the hearing on the establishment of fire zones in the City of Campbell.
6. Deferred the appointment of two members to the new Personnel Board, until the next meeting.
7. Approved the attendance of Chief of Police Robert Locke at the Peace-Officers Convention in San Diego, May 21-22-23.
8. Made reservations for the entire council to attend the Mayors' and Councilmen's conference in Monterey, May 24-25.
9. Proclaimed Goodwill Industries Week.
10. Appointed Chief Locke director of "Slow Down and Live" campaign for safe driving.
11. Heard Fire Chief Jack Scott explain the conditions under which a burning permit would be issued for the preparation of the new cover and fill dump in the Los Gatos Creek.
12. Discussed with both chiefs the advantages of a central alarm system for both fire and burglary for several businesses in Campbell.
13. Set the dates for the first budget sessions starting this week.
14. Appointed the chairman and committees from the council on finance and licenses; ordinances; public health; sewers and streets and auditing.
15. Heard report on new house numbering situation.
16. Acknowledged a refund of $419.15 from the state compensation insurance; heard that the motor vehicle in lieu funds for the city of $42,800 for 56-57 would be up about $8000 over last year; received $414.86 in delinquent taxes, and paid bills.
17. Adjourned.

Lions Club Hosts Tri-Club Dinner

Campbell Lions Club was host for the tri-club dinner meet at Campbell Women's Clubrooms Tuesday night, when members from the Rotary Club and the Kiwanis Club attended and Bruce Allen, assemblyman, and John Chargin, Campbell's new mayor, were special guests, along with presidents of each culb.

"Atoms for Peace" was the subject of a talk by Dr. F. Albert Ellis, San Jose State College professor, who also showed slides of atomic tests in Nevada.

Kiwanis Quartet, with C. P. Klassen, Rev. Herbert Neale, Lloyd Nelson and Howard Guilbert, were heard in a number of spirituals and a medley of old favorite songs.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? PLENTY, MAN DISCOVERS

A rose by any other name will smell; period.

That's what James T. Abernathy, 44, who gives 1011 Lovell St., Campbell, as his address discovered to his sorrow this week.

He was arrested here on April 19 by Officers Dick Mayne and John Morgan for appearing in a vehicle while intoxicated. He was booked under the name of Richard Jennings as shown by his identification papers. It was later learned that Jennings was wanted in Richmond and the local charges were withdrawn so Richmond could have him and he was transported to the Contra Costa jail.

But in the Richmond court it was discovered that the man was not Jennings after all but Abernathy, who claimed that he had found Jennings' identification papers in a San Jose bus depot.

So Abernathy, nee Jennings, was brought back to San Jose by Chief Robert Locke and Officer Mayne of Campbell to face local charges of operating a vehicle after his license had been suspended.

Added to the original charges was another: showing false identification.

Abernathy learned the hard way that it doesn't pay to go around picking up just any old name.

PROPOSED FIRE ZONES... Campbell's City Council on May 7 has called a public hearing on the establishment of the fire zones as indicated on the above map. Zone 1 (indicated by parallel lines) is for industry while Zone II (indicated by criss-cross lines) is for commercial and business structures. Other parts of the city would be placed in the residential fire zone. Commercial zones would generally be in the center of the city. Both Jack Scott, fire chief, and W. L. (Bud) Morer, building inspector, have advocated the establishment of the zones would assist in preventing major conflagrations and prohibit hazardous construction in only specified areas. The two city officials also point out that the establishing of fire zones is mandatory under the uniform building code of the city.

Debris to Go up In Smoke at Dump

Smoke will probably soon arise from the new rubbish dump in the Los Gatos Creek bed. But it will only be on a temporary basis.

No burning of any kind will take place in the cover and fill dump after it officially goes into operation. However, before George Bumb, the owner, can start covering and filling, the area must first be cleared of the tons of debris, mostly tree stumps and tops, that have been deposited there, more or less illegally, over a period of years.

Fire Chief Jack Scott, who had protested the issuance of a use permit by the Planning Commission to George Bumb in the first place, told the City Council Monday night that before he would issue a fire permit to the dump operators to burn the accumulated debris, certain conditions had to be met.

He said that Bumb must first install a water line, must not burn palm trees, must have a man on duty while the burning was going on and guarantee that the fire could be put out in six hours.

He said the burning would probably take at least six days to complete.

TWO CARS COLLIDE HERE ON SUNDAY

Minor injuries were suffered by a nine-year old boy Sunday morning as a result of a two-car collision at the intersection of Latimer and Milton avenues in Campbell.

Cars driven by Ramiro Anthony Gomez, 455 W. Elm, Burbank, and Emily Price, 144 Rosemary Lane, Campbell, came together at the corner and Charles Anthony Gomez, a passenger in his father's car was injured as a result. Gomez was proceeding east on Latimer and the Price vehicle was going south on Milton. Gomez also suffered minor injuries and with his son was taken to O'Connor hospital.

Officer John Morgan of the Campbell police department investigated.

M. S. Hutchings is credited with the first experimental plantings of lettuce in the Pajaro Valley near Watsonville; he shipped a wagon load to San Francisco in 1916.

LAW IN ACTION

THE STATE BAR OF CALIFORNIA · JULY 29, 1927

LOVE THY NEIGHBOR BUT KNOW THE LAW

The home owners next door are known in law as adjoining landowners.

The law makes it your duty not to injure other persons or their property. For next door neighbors the law has wisely set up special rules.

For if one owner damages his neighbor's property or interferes with his use of it, the law has to settle the back fence dispute quickly. Better yet, let the parties know the law to keep the problem from arising.

Some common neighborly problems:

1. Suppose by mistake you build your home about three inches over on B's lot. You can be made to move your house off B's lot, sometimes at great cost and trouble. So before building, why not have a qualified surveyor locate your boundaries?

2. Mrs. Jones fights with her neighbor, Mrs. Smith. She claims that when she hangs the wash out, Mrs. Smith gives her dirty looks. She thinks Mrs. Smith spies on her. She wants Mr. Jones to raise the back yard fence to 12 feet. Can he do this? No! In such a case the law calls a fence over 10 feet high a spite fence.

3. Friends Brown and White own lots next to each other. They plan to build houses. They like the idea of putting their garages in the back of the lots and sharing an eight foot driveway, half on Brown's lot and half on White's.

Is this wise? The common driveway may work fine. But what if Brown sells his lot and the new neighbor turns his garage into a work shop and then fences off his part of the driveway as part of his yard? You might need a law suit to find out if White can still use the driveway and have the fence taken down.

Where two people share part of each other's land, you should put this "easement" in writing and record it with the county recorder. This recording gives a buyer of either lot notice of the neighbor's rights and makes it binding.

NOTE: The State Bar of California offers this column for your information so that you may know more about how to act under our laws.

State Faces Golden Age, Says Official

"California stands on the threshold of a golden age—but she must continue to face squarely up to the problems posed by prosperity and rapid growth," Robert C. Kirkwood, State Controller, said this week.

Addressing a meeting of the Santa Clara County Chapter of Certified Public Accountants, Kirkwood declared that General Fund revenues for the first nine months of fiscal 1955-56 totaled $730,450,282, an increase of $92,966,275 over the same period of the preceding year.

"These mounting revenues—which at present are breaking records every month--indicate that our economy is rooted in a firm fiscal basis," Kirkwood said. "We have every reason to believe that our present period of expansion has a solid foundation."

Bucs Make It Five Straight in SCVAL by Swamping Mountain View

With five straight wins under their belts in dual meet competition in the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League, Campbell High School's flying Bucs yesterday (after press time) met James Lick in a meet that decides the league dual meet championship.

The crucial meet took place at the local oval. James Lick also was putting up its clean record for the season in league meets.

On Friday Campbell defeated Mountain View, 94-28 here while Lick beat Los Gatos, 92½ to 28½ at Los Gatos.

As usual Mike Profit, Buc's star weight tosser, showed off his constantly improving form and shoved the shot for his best mark of the season. It flew through the air this time 55-ft, 3¾-inches.

Three Bucs chalked up double wins in the Mountain View meet. Monte Nielsen took the 100 in :10.2 and the 220 in :23.1 and he also ran a lap on the winning relay team. Bud Sweet won the 140-low hurdles and the broad jump and also was on the relay team. Russ Cahill surpassed his season's best in the discus with a throw of 129-11 and also the hop-step-and-jump.

In addition to the win in the A's over Mountain View, Campbell won the B meet 61½-60½, the C's 62-33 and the D's, 52-30.

Other Buc first place winners in the A meet included, Cureton, 440; Hoffman, 880; Reeder, mile; Clark, high hurdles; Dial and Boone tied for first in the high jump.

BUCS HOLD ONTO LEAD — JUST BARELY

Campbell High hung onto its lead in the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League baseball race last Thursday by squeezing by Washington 3-2. But it was close going there for a while.

Ben Daniels made a spectacular catch to stop a home run and save the game in the third inning. The Bucs went on to edge the Huskies 3 to 2 on the losers grass.

In the third inning, Huskie Al Hernandez doubled to drive in San-tos. Then clean up batter Waters hit what looked to be a sure home run but the speed of Ben Daniels proved too much for the hit as he made a beautiful catch. Ben wasn't satisfied with only one out, he wheeled and threw to second base to double off Hernandez and end the Husky rally.

In the last half of the last inning, with the tieing run on third base and one already scored that inning, pitching ace Bob Sutton struck out the last batter to win his fourth league game in as many starts this season. Bob now has won all nine league games in the past two seasons in nine starts.

Bob gave up two runs, eight walks, three hits and struck out nine in seven innings. Bob has struck out forty-two in the four league starts this year.

The Bucs started their scoring in the second inning when Bob drove Frank Koontz in from second base with a single to right field. In the fifth inning Hector Cordova drove in Frank again with the tie breaking run after the Huskies had scored in the third. In the top of the seventh Jerry Sutton drove in Matt Musladin with a security run.

Hector, who is leading the team in league season with .636, hit two for two to lead the team in batting. Other hits went to Musladin, one for four; Jerry Sutton, three; Koontz, one for three; and two for four; Daniels, one for Bob Sutton, one for three.

Netmen Win Third League Match

Last Thursday, April 19, Campbell won its third league match by humbling Washington 6-1. This sets the team up for the match with Mountain View, May 3, for the championship.

The results:

1st singles: Gene Andres (C) def. Lynn Burns (W) 6-2, 7-5.

2nd singles: Nate Meleen (C) def. Tom Gilette (W) 6-0, 6-1.

3rd singles: Tom Goulding (C) def. Richard Fritch (W) 6-2, 6-1.

4th singles: Bill Meyer (C) def. Ken Andrews (W) 7-5, 6-1.

5th singles: Joe Smith (W) def. Dom Griffe (C) 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

1st doubles: Gil Rodriguez and Mark Wright (C) def. Joe Monte de Rey and Steve Ebbage (W) 6-1, 6-0.

2nd doubles: John Davis and Norman Wright (C) def. Tak Katsumoto and Allens Williams (W) 6-1, 6-2.

Prom Under Way

The name, "Midnight Enchantment", suggested by Fred Sprague, will be the name of the coming junior prom, which will be held May 18.

The junior cabinet members met last Thursday and chose the committee chairmen who are Maureen Swanson—refreshments, Jim Corbus—cleanup, Larry Weber—music, Lona Little—bids. Karl Belsen—lights, Dave LaBarbara—construction, and Jo Battaglit—general supervisor of decoration.

Fred Sprague, who submitted the name, will receive as his prize, a free rental of a tux from Ida's Tuxedo Rental of San Jose.

Tuesday the committee chairmen and helpers got started on their projects. All interested juniors who wish to help on the committees should contact the heads, and attend the meetings.

Billy Wilson to Speak At Saratoga VFW Social

Billy Wilson, of Campbell, star end for the 49'ers grid team, will be the speaker at the social meeting sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars memorial post of Saratoga this Friday at 7:30 p. m. at the Saratoga Firemen's Hall on Oak St. in Saratoga.

Movies of the 49'ers highlights will be shown. There will also be dancing and refreshments. The public is invited to the affair.

Red Cross Falls Under Quota Here

Campbell lagged in the Red Cross campaign that closed last Friday, with $4,357.23 collected, which was $642.77 below the quota of $5,000, according to Major Howard Lillingston, who headed this year's drive in Campbell.

Campbell branch was the only unit in the county that failed to reach the quota. Major Lillingston attributed the lag to lack of workers.

Campbell headquarters for the drive at 373 East Campbell Ave. will close the end of this week, but residents wishing to contribute after this week may send their contributions to Box 476 in Campbell.

CANCER DRIVE NEEDS YOUR HELP

Campbell is lagging in the current Cancer Drive campaign, according to Herb Shadle, local drive chairman.

We are sorry to hear that, for we feel that among all the many fund drives that are deserving of support by all of us, this is one that needs your help more than any other.

Our reasoning is simple.

In this modern age, it is generally understood that only the common cold and cancer still defy the medical profession. Even the name cancer throws a fear and dread on us all.

There is hardly a home in this country that has not been touched in some manner by this dreadful disease. Almost every family has been affected by the agony of the suffering of a cancer patient.

Great strides are being taken in the control of cancer and through your contributions these strides will eventually reach their destination.

Cancer can strike anyone at any age. It can affect children as well as adults. According to the present rates, cancer will strike one in every four Americans and more than 40,000,000 Americans living. This works out to approximately two of every three American families.

It kills approximately 685 Americans every day. But last year, although 245,000 Americans died of cancer, approximately 80,000 others were saved from dying; i.e., every seven minutes on the average another American who had cancer was saved.

Leading the fight to stamp out this murderer. through research, diagnosis and treatment is the American Cancer Society. That is why we feel that contributing to the drive for the Society is so worthwhile.

Last year the American Cancer Society could grant scientists only two of every three dollars they needed for research. Many more facilities are needed, although knowledge about cancer is continually improving. Only about 40 per cent of the people in a recent opinion survey could even name one of cancer's danger signals. Only one in three had had a checkup for cancer.

The fight against cancer is expanding vigorously and with the increase in contributions, the tempo of the attack can also increase.

If you haven't given to the drive, do so now. Contributions can be mailed to American Cancer Society, P. O. Box 698, Campbell, Calif.

OLD SETTLERS' DAY

Only one week remains until the second oldest celebration in the state of California will be staged in Campbell.

The 64th annual Old Settlers' Day celebration will take place on May 4, 5 and 6 and every resident of Campbell should take it upon himself to take an active interest in this big event.

In our opinion, the celebration is a "natural." In no other way can old-timers and new-timers come together in a mutual admiration society for a common interest.

It should be a "must" for all residents to view the parade, see the "mellodrammer" and attend the Sunday festivities when the mothers of the community will be honored.

That shouldn't be a difficult task, for everyone should have a good time doing it.

BRIDE YMURPHY STRIKES AGAIN!

Maw and Paw were discussing the pros and cons of Bridey Murphy's story, and Maw remarked, "I don't see how come there are enough souls to go around if everyone has a soul from someone of the last century, since there are so many more people being born today." So Paw he sez, "Well, Maw, maybe that's why there are so many heels in the world."

(The above sounds better said than spelled!)

DEAN'S PASSING LOSS TO COMMUNITY

The passing of Dr. James C. DeVoss, retired dean at San Jose State College, leaves a void in the hearts of many in this area. Hundreds of former students will remember taking classes with him or consulting him on problems, many of a keen personal nature, to which he was always willing to give of his time, understanding and knowledge.

Dr. DeVoss had a keen sense of humor, a gentle nature and a manner which endeared him to all. His remarks and observations, in and out of the classroom, served as guideposts for the many with whom he came in contact. It is a privilege to have known him and to have studied under him. CC

In recent issues of The Press we have publicized the current drive of the local police department against various types of illegal parking in Campbell. Last Thursday, much to our chagrin, we had concrete evidence of the efficiency of the drive.

We picked up a citation for briefly parking in the bus zone in front of the Blue Bell. We were delivering our papers to the stand inside the cafe at the time and took a little extra time to count the dimes that had been collected during the week.

When we returned to our car we found that Officer John Morgan had been there before us. He had tucked one of those little pink numbers under the windshield wiper blade. He wasn't around to hear our groans about our rotten luck. Our mons really were mainly to relieve our injured pride and nothing else.

We were clearly at fault and deserved the ticket, darn it. We shall try to avoid such a calamity in the future when delivering The Press to the news stands on Thursday morning. (Heck, our collections in some cases would hardly pay the buck fine.)

Naturally we have been subjected to a considerable amount of good-natured kidding, especially from the City Hall people, when we somewhat shamefacedly admitted that we had been apprehended at last.

We doubt if we will be able to make a Federal case out of it. Chief Justice Warren and his comrades-in-robes are probably too busy with other affairs to be interested in a parking ticket.

We were told we have the privilege (?) of sending in our one buck fine or appearing in Judge Crawford's court next Thursday. We sorta think we will go to court.

We want to get full value received for our buck.

In a letter to the editor this week, Edward Fries suggests a very worthwhile community project. He suggests that some sort of a memorial should be planned for the community in honor of Rev. Joseph Bennett, who recently passed away.

Rev. Bennett started the first Cub Scout organization in the United States right here in Campbell. Rev. Bennett, who was born in England, copied the American Cubs after the English Cub Scout program. He came to the Campbell Congregational Church directly from England and remained as pastor here for 19 years.

We suggest you read the letter in this issue. We consider it a very commendable suggestion and we feel certain there are many residents and local organizations who would like to assist in such a worthwhile project. The growth of the Cub Scout program has been outstanding. We of Campbell should be proud that it started right in our own backyard.

We would be interested to learn how others feel about this suggestion. We would be happy to lend a hand and our voice and typewriter to the cause.

Philip Lively, 291 Richlee, has been the leading light in the struggle for residents of the Kuehnis tract to get the kind of street lights they desired. It looks now like their battle will be successful and the residents will be able to form a special assessment district.

Phil conscientiously during the past weeks has kept us informed as to the progress they were making . On Wednesday last week, however, he told us he would be unable to come to our office for our conference.

He is employed at the test center of the Food Machinery plant in San Jose where army tanks are built. It seems on that day the plant was expecting a VIP. Phil had been called on for a special job.

It turned out that Phil piloted the big 20-ton tank (M-59) around the track with the aspiring presidential candidate, estes Kefauver, as a special guest.

We must agree that giving Estes a ride in a tank was a little more interesting than talking about street lights.

A chance to give a presidential candidate a ride in a tank doesn't come too often.

If by a strange quirk of politics Estes should happen to arrive eventually in the White House, just think what tales Phil can tell posterity.

—o—

Speaking of rides, Chief of Police Bob Locke, gave us a ride the other day in the new Ford that the local police department is using while waiting to get a similar one to replace the car that was demolished in a recent wreck.

Bob demonstrated for our benefit the terrific pick-up on the special job, and how well and how fast the car can take curves.

The demonstration can't be compared to that of Keafauver's in the tank but we betcha we moved faster and covered more ground.

Cambrian Schools Sponsor Events

Cambrian Schools held open house Wednesday as part of its participation in Public Schools Week. Parents visited the classrooms from 7:00 to 9:00 P. M. Dinner was served in the School Cafeteria from 6:00 to 7:30 p. m. Funds from the dinner will be used for a new turf on the athletic field. Bagby and Steindorf Schools will have open house tomorrow night.

A reception honoring the district room mothers was held last Thursday, at the Bagby School. The reception was sponsored by the faculty in appreciation for the help and assistance given by the room mothers during the school year. Entertainment was provided by the faculty and refreshments were served.

The Cambrian Men's Club is sponsoring an auction sale this Saturday. The event will begin at 12:00 noon and will be held on the Cambrian School. Several groups will have refreshment booths. Proceeds will be used for the Cambrian Youth Center.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

CUB SCOUTS FOUNDER

Editor, The Press.

Sir: The recent death of the Rev. Joseph Henry Bennett, former pastor of the Campbell Congregational Church and the founding father of the Cub Scouts of America, was a great loss to the community and the nation at large.

To perpetuate and commemorate his works, it is proper and fitting that a memorial be erected in his memory. It should be a living memorial carrying out his works, which would call attention to the nation and the world; "that the Cub Scouts of America were founded here in Campbell".

To accomplish this idea without pain to the taxpayers, a public subscription lead by the Cub Scouts of America and sponsored by local and national Fraternal and Civic groups would bring this idea to a reality.

The Rev. Joseph Bennett brought Juvenile decency out of juvenile delinquency when he inaugurated the Cub Scouts of America. He built muscle in the character of his Cub Scout movement, which is a shining light for all the world to see.

The City and Community of Campbell lacks recreation facilities, such as a community park, where swimming, softball, baseball and scouting activities can be carried out. Such a Park would be an asset to the community and a living memorial to the late Rev. Joseph Bennett. Such a recreational project would be the key to juvenile decency. A Cub Scout Club House with all the facilities to carry on its work would be the mainspring of this park. A small fee for swimming would pay for the upkeep of the Park, which would be used by many.

Adequate markers should be installed on the outskirts of all roads leading into Campbell, proclaiming "Campbell, Founding Birthplace of The Cub Scouts of America". Our Chamber of Commerce should use that fact on their letterheads and in their advertisements of Campbell.

I offer this as a suggestion only. There are other voices in the community which may want to offer a more concrete plan, whichever plan is acceptable, "let's put our shoulder to the wheel and make this a reality."

Fraternally
EDWARD G. FRIES.

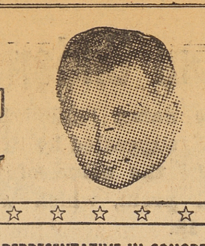
ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
TENTH DISTRICT, CALIFORNIA

It was somewhat startling this week to see big blotches of red paint high up on the Capitol dome. Although Big Game time is still more than six months away, my University of California conditioned reflexes almost made me look for a Stanford "S", but even the most loyal Berkeley rooter couldn't blame the Stanford Indians for this one.

A phone call to the Architect of the Capitol confirmed that the red areas were merely the first phases of a completely new paint job for the Capitol dome, and that the man who scaled the top of the Statue of Freedom, more than 287 feet above the Plaza, far from being a prankster, actually was putting platinum on Freedom's crown.

As protection against lightning, 10 bronze points, tipped with platinum, are placed on the statue atop the Capitol. During the years, lightning bolts repeatedly hit these points and are thereby reflected without harming the building. During the years, however, the platinum is scorched off by the lightning bolts, and must be renewed to maintain their effectiveness as a protective device.

Every four years, while the nation gets ready for presidential elections, the Capitol dome receives two new coats of paint to be trim and ready for the inauguration ceremonies the following January. After touching up spots worn bare by wind and weather, contractors paint the more than 600,000 square feet of surface with paint that looks white from the street below; but actually is a light gray. It takes 1000 gallons of paste, 250 gallons of raw oil, 450 gallons of turpentine, and 20 gallons of dryer to accimplish the job.

Since the platinum covering of the lightning rod points cannot be done high up on the Statue of Freedom, the points are removed and brought down. However, in order to give the Capitol some measure of protection, only five points are removed at one time.

One interesting fact not generally known is that the huge Capitol dome, though firmly riveted into place, oscillates with the sun whose infuence is great on the 4455 tons of metal. Experiments have shown that the dome oscillates between three and four inches to the south, southeast, then west, and as the retiring sun declines and finally disappears, north, northeast, and east, returning to its original position.

GARDENER'S CHECK LIST

REMINDERS

1. Gardening can be made easier by the use of one of the new chemical soil conditioners.

2. Polyanthus Primrose plants should be divided about every third year. They should be divided as soon as they finish their spring bloom.

3 .Gladiolus planted at three week intervals will provide a sequence of blooms.

4. Don't cut your lawn lower than 1½ inches. Short mowing frequently causes grass to turn brown in spots due to sun burning.

5. Some plants do best when planted from seed into the open ground. Among these are Zinnias, Godetias and Annual Poppies.

FUCHSIAS

A major garden craze today throughout California is the cultivation of Fuchsias. There are many reasons for the extreme popularity of the flowering shrub: its blooms are prolific and extremely attractive in their colorful pendant forms; it will respond to the slightest bit of care and it has an extremely long flowering season. In addition, the Fuchsia can be used in a variety of planting styles throughout the garden and patio area.

Keep the ground moist around the plants at all times. Since watering is probably the most important aspect of Fuchsia cultivation a regular program should be established. During its peak performance period, which runs from Spring to Fall, water the Fuchsias thoroughly every other day in mild climates and every day in hot climates.

When you have provided the proper planting site make sure the planting soil is correct. Fuchsias are acid-tolerant plants and here in the west, where the water tends to be alkaline, you must continually supply acid materials to the soil.

These Spring days are the best time to plant Fuchsias. Make your selections from your local nurseryman's collection, which will be in containers, properly pruned and fertilized and ready for planting. In transplanting from the nursery to your garden try to give each plant a planting site as near to its requirements as possible and allow an adjustment period before transplanting to an area of less desirable conditions.

Carefully apply leaf mold in Spring and Fall, mixing in a mulch of cow manure in the Spring application. During the blooming season a monthly dosage of fish emulsion or other liquid plant food may be given if necessary.

Few diseases bother the Fuchsia and the insects that may bother it can usually be prevented by thoroughly hosing down of the foliage each week and spraying with an all purpose insecticide once a month.

Another essential of Fuchsia culture is pruning. Prune when all possibilities of frost are past.

Hanging Fuchsias are one of the loveliest ways of planting this flower, for in this manner its pendant blooms can be closely viewed and enjoyed.

"GOODWILL' GRAD . . . Joyce Cadieux, newly employed as receptionist for the Campbell Union School District office, received her training in general office work at Goodwill Industries.

'Goodwill' Grad Takes Job Here As Receptionist

Joyce Cadieux is the new receptionist at the Campbell Union School District office.

The pretty green-eyed brunette whose appearance fits her name, has been "graduated" into the job from Goodwill Industries where she has been doing general office work for 16 months.

Don Lathrop, Goodwill's personnel and rehabilitative services administrator, says that Miss Cadieux "is an excellent example of how an individual can profit from Goodwill's program of training, rehabilitation and employment for handicapped men and women."

Through her activities in the bookkeeping department and as a switchboard - receptionist, Joyce has learned many skills. "She has been rated on her ability not a disability," Lathrop comments.

"More than this, she has gained friendship, self-confidence and self-respect," Lathrop adds.

Previous to Goodwill, she attended a secretarial school and also worked in San Jose City Library.

Her chief hobby is cooking, baking in particular. She lives with her parents and a younger brother in the Willow Glen area.

Farm Bureau Sets 17 Cents Pound Strawberry Price

The asking field price for stemmed strawberries for processiong has been set at 17 cents a pound at a meeting of the strawberry section of the California Farm Bureau Federation in Berkeley. It was agreed that the same suggested trade standards used last year should apply.

E. F. Driscoll of San Martin was re-elected chairman and George Nakagawa of Modesto was chosen vice chairman by the representative growers present from Santa Clara, Monterey, Santa Cruz, Fresno and San Joaquin counties.

The outlook for the coming season is generally good, Malcolm Douglas, manager of the strawberry advisory board, told those attending the meeting, despite a 22 million pound greater carry over of frozen berries on March 31 than at the same time last year.

The current movement of berries is at a much higher rate than last year, he said. During March 26 million pounds of frozen berries moved into consumption compared with 17 million pounds during the same period in 1955.

High employment and income are partly responsible for the increased consumption of the fruit this year, Douglas believes. The national pack is expected to be from five to ten per cent greater than last year, but it is anticipated the market will be able to absorb the increase.

University Foundation

Santa Clara County Institutions Have Big Roles in Cancer Research

Pieces of the international jig-saw puzzle of cancer research are being fitted into place in Santa Clara County at two institutions: Stanford University and the Palo Alto Medical Research Foundation.

The great university and the young independent foundation indicate the range of participation by scientists in the world-wide effort to complete the picture of cancer's cause and cure.

At Stanford, the search for cancer knowledge has long been under way with distinguished success. The work of such top researchers as professors Edward L. Ginzton, Paul H. Kirkpatrick, Victor C. Twitty, Hubert S. Loring, Edward L. Tatum, Hadley Kirkman, Murray Luck and Henry S. Kaplan has received wide recognition.

SOCIETY ASSISTS

This year $202,187 in American Cancer Society grants will help underwrite research on projects at Stanford attacking the cancer problem from every imaginable angle.

Less well-known and on a smaller scale are the equally significant contributions of researchers at the Palo Alto Medical Research Foundation.

The Foundation was set up in 1950 by practicing physicians throughout Santa Clara County who needed a well-equipped modern laboratory in which to follow up research leads gathered in day-to-day practice. The permanent staff includes several research specialists and technicians.

Typical of the cancer research going on in the modest building at 333 Channing Ave., Palo Alto, are two projects financed this year by $8,500 in grants from the American Cancer Society.

When the Society in 1954 awarded a three-year scholarship to Dr. David A. Salzberg of the permanent staff for basic cancer studies, the Foundation came of age as a nationally recognized institution.

Dr. Salzberg is hoping to discover the cause of cancer in the human body through the artificial induction of cancer in rats and mice by use of a cancer-producing agent, azo dye. By making the dye radioactive, he has been able to trace where the compound goes and how the body responds.

DOCTORS IN RESEARCH

One of the physicians following up his research ideas at the Foundation in after-practice hours is Dr. Sydney F. Thomas, Palo Alto radiologist. He has received an American Cancer Society grant to improve diagnostic techniques through developing a way to make the liver and spleen visible by x-ray. He is also experimenting in improved cancer therapy by treating patients with combinations of x-ray and chemical agents.

Working on basic research at the Foundation is Dr. Barend H. J. Hofstee, noted biochemist and authority on enzyme function, who is expanding his efforts to relate enzyme activity to cancer. He has been awarded a three-year grant from the National Institutes of Health.

New diagnostic tools and techniques for the detection of cancer may result from the investigations of Dr. Lawrence Arnstein, neurosurgeon, who also is working at the Foundation under a grant from the National Institutes of Health. In collaboration with Dr. Peter Franken, physicist on the Stanford faculty, Dr. Arnstein is researching the possibilities of applying the discoveries of modern physics to the detection of cancer.

In Santa Clara County, scientists and medical men are quietly working on bits and pieces of cancer research that eventually will fall into place to solve the cancer puzzle. They are part of an international research effort that is a "one world" collaboration to conquer cancer, a killer that knows no boundaries.

There are two things to aim at in life: first, to get what you want; and, after that, to enjoy it. Only the wisest of mankind achieves the second.

MORELAND MUSINGS

Priscilla Circle of the Westhope Presbyterian Church held its April meeting at the home of R. Pitman on the Sunnyvale Road.

After the dessert luncheon, Mrs. Alvin Brewer led the group in a devotional reading, then went on to a discussion of Hagar. The group is studying women of the Old Testament.

Mrs. G. M. Estell, president of the Circle, told of the missionary work of Dr. V. M. Henry in Egypt, and Rev. Donald W. Jolly spoke on Christian Missions.

The Circle is sponsoring a lecture on European camera slides 7:30 Sunday evening, May 20 at the church. Mrs. Edwin E. Niccolls, who took the pictures and will give the talk, has recently come back from extensive travels, through the Russian zone in Germany, West Germany, Switzerland, Italy—in fact through Europe.

The Citizen's Advisory Committee of Moreland School is planning a barbecue May 26 at Saratoga Springs. Mrs. Frank Mortara, Mrs. Marian Pankowski and Mrs. Russell Rinaro are on the planning committee. The volley ball courts, family barbecue space and swimming pool will be available. All members of the Citizen's Advisory Committee and all others who are interested in Moreland Schools are invited to attend.

Campfire groups I-Y-Wa and O-Ki-Ka-Ma with leaders Beverly Coe and Mary Smith visited a local nursery last week. The girls inspected all the stock, and learned the names of many plants and shrubs. Each group bought a tree, which they intend to plant later.

QUITO QUORNER

The school orchestra featured the Quito PTA meeting, Tuesday night. Comprising the orchestra, are Michael Duncan, trombone; Midori Idota, Betsy Lassen, Kay Grosshans, Sally Griffith, Karen Croft, Kelly Clemenson, Bruce Coutellier, Glynn Smith, violinists; Steve Hannah, Joanne Stevens and Janice Stevens, cello; Louise Pechin, clarinet; Larry Elizondo, trumpet; Roger Wadhams, cornet; David Duncan and Richard Alexander, trumpet; Penny Wolpern, violin and Richard Hott, cello.

The flower show was on exhibition and the fifth grade mothers served refreshments.

Boy Scoup troop 67 under the leadership of L. R. Prinz attended the camporee at dela Vega Park in Santa Cruz last weekend. In addition to the scoutmaster, Mr. H. Feltman, Don Krueger and Jack Feltman went along.

Bob Feltman is patrol leader for the Explorer Crew and Paul Beechie and Bob Martindale are patrol leaders for the troop.

The Mariner's Club of the Westhope Presbyterian Church met at the Ray Martins for a hard-time party with smorgasborg. About 30 people were there. The men's quartet had prepared some numbers, and the evening turned into a general songfest with group singing.

Ed and Lillian Craig are skippers of the group. The first mates, otherwise program chairmen, are Phil and Mary Drew. The pursers are John and Verna Bueckert, and the lookouts are Harry and Marie Wild. All residents of the area are welcome to join the group.

Jack Feltman's dance group appeared last week at IBM family night and also at the Santa Clara Methodist Church. The Feltmans have recently moved here from Hollywood, and Jack is a senior at Campbell Union High School. He plans to attend San Jose State in the fall.

The Feltman group make all their costumes, and specialize in authentic Indian dances. They are glad to offer their services to church groups, or boy scout groups, though they also accept commercial bookings.

Jack has a sizeable Indian collection at his home at 13158 Montrose in Quito village. He has made many trips into the desert country. Among other things he has a golden eagle war bonnet, and an authentic silver concha belt.

Cub Scout pack 35 will be entertained by Mrs. G. Elizondo's den 3 on Friday.

Den 4 rises to prominence when Mike Patrick enters the Webelos den and Benny Mundwyler becomes a wolf with two arrows. Gary Pierce from den 2, Fred Price and Michael Reppas from den 6 also advance to the Wolf rank.

Fred Price, who transferred from another school, also receives his Bear rank at this time, and Dick Berg from den 5 becomes a Lion.

Esther Craig's fifth grade entertained the Quito School at assembly last week. The entire class sang "SWEET BETSY FROM PIKE", and "ON TOP OF OLD SMOKY".

Acting as a verse choir, with solo parts, they recited "JONOTHAN BIGGS", "FUZZY WUZZY", and "OLD MRS. GOOSE". They also put on a play: "THE PROFESSOR'S MAGIC TELESCOPE".

Ester Fore and Norma Kapp from Quito School are attending the Supervisor's conference at Sonoma, where they will attend the sessions on mentally retarded and gifted children.

SAN TOMAS SUMMARY

The pack is also planning a booth at Scoutarama. They will have workers making give-away miniature scouts from clothespins, as well as other handicrafts.

David Graham-Armstrong was able to arrange for Dens 2, 3, and 4 to take a most enjoyable trip to the Almaden mines recently. An ardent rock-hound himself, he had made several trips to Almaden and had become acquainted with superintendent James Tobar, who used to be a Boy Scout leader himself.

On Saturday morning, with an adult for every five boys; David Graham-Armstrong, Chester Eades, Mrs. John Heriman, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Redfern, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Kovak were the adults; the group arrived at the mine and saw the ore processed.

Each child brought home several samples of ore. They were the first youth group ever to visit the mine.

Mrs. David Graham-Armstrong took Girl Scout troop 230 rollerskating at Rollerland recently. Mrs. Henry Druus, co-leader, also helped with the excursion.

Mrs. Graham-Armstrong is also den mother of Den 2. Denner Paul Eades and assistant denner David Graham-Armstrong promised to secure the active co-operation of the denners in dens 4 and 5, if they were permitted to attend also.

After consultation with den mothers Florence Herriman and Dorothy Vierra a satisfactory merger was arranged, and the three dens joined the girls rollerskating.

The dad's and daughter's box supper social of the Bluebirds and Campfire girls was a success, according to chairman Mrs. John Estepa, and her assistant, Mrs. P. W. Nagel.

Each girl packed a box supper for herself and her father. The event was held in the San Tomas cafetorium, and games were enjoyed after supper.

Dog Has Vital Job—Let Him Do It
Guide dog at work, do not pet, is the advice given this boy by Guide Dogs for the Blind, near San Rafael. To distract animal could endanger her blind master, says the organization. The animal's been carefully trained to serve as eyes do. The group is now soliciting funds.

Drive for Guide Dogs for Blind Starts in County

Mrs. Earl Handley, 512 Old Orchard Road, Campbell, is this area's chairman for the annual fund drive for the Guide Dogs for the Blind which officially opened in the county at annual membership tea last week.

Mrs. Handley reported that the workers are anticipating a successful campaign this year because of the increasing awareness on the part of the public for the work Guide Dogs for the Blind is doing for the blind. The organization has been commended for its work in returning confidence and security as well as economic independence to the blind.

More than 500 have been graduated from the Guide Dogs for the Blind School in San Rafael where they have received both their in-residence training and their Guide Dogs entirely free of cost.

The schooling and the dogs are made possible through membership contributions in the annual drive conducted by volunteer workers. Working on the Campbell committee are Mrs. Juanita Bohnett, Mrs. Lowell Bradford, Mrs. M. W. Bailey and Howard Lillingston.

Mrs. Henry Frank is Santa Clara County chairman. She explained that each year the need for the program has been increased. In 1942 two Guide Dogs were supplied and in 1955 87-man-dog units were trained. This year it is hoped that 100 blind men and women will be supplied.

Memberships in the Guide Dogs for the Blind are $5 and up. Checks may be mailed to Mrs. Handley.

The rewards of duty are not rest from labor, but greater tasks.
